After what is called an "open enrollment" phase (a one-year program) a two-year course that focuses on innovation and enterprise starts. "There is no country in the knowledge field in the program that focuses on innovation and entrepreneurship," says Chatur. "We also have to be the national center for innovation in entrepreneurship that gives the students the opportunity they need to start their own ventures," she adds.

Other emerging talent in the program is social entrepreneurs whose special needs to be addressed within the social space with out
